It is nearly thirteen years since rules were issued by Government for the effective working of the Vaccination Regulation and since then the compulsory system has been introduced into several Municipal areas. But the object aimed at by the introduction of these rules viz, the maintenance of an enhanced standard of protection such as can be expected to prevent the incidence and spread of small-pox has nowhere been attained. Rather too much weight is given to the supposition that in his own interests a parent or guardian will not postpone the vaccination of his child. There is little or no active participation of the Municipality to secure the freedom of their area from out-breaks of small-pox, as an organised endeavour and as a part of legitimate Municipal work.

(2) The reason commonly assigned for the lack of progress in work is either that bye-laws under para 24 of the Vaccination rules have not been framed or that in case they have been framed, confirmation by higher authorities is awaited. A reference to para 24 of the rules will make it clear that it is not incumbent on the Municipalities to frame bye-laws, only they may, if they so desire, have bye-laws to supplement the rules. The rules are self-contained and admit of application independently of any bye-laws. Enclosed are model bye-laws --- which may be adopted, mutatis mutandis, in Municipal areas, with the previous sanction of Government. But as already explained the absence of bye-laws need not be a bar to the working of the compulsory Regulation.

(3) In areas where Vaccination is compulsory, the appended notice ~~from~~ ~~the~~ form under rule 7 should be introduced ~~forthwith~~. The cost will be inconsiderable and may be met out of Municipal Funds.

(4) One other important point requiring immediate attention is the formal appointment of and delegation of duties to the Superintendent of Vaccination (Vide paragraphs 3 and 19 of the Vaccination rules). The recent order of Government No G C 12875-86 San 48-19-3 dated the 14th December 1919, reproduced hereunder for ready reference, directs the appointment of the Local Sanitary Inspector, if there is one, as Superintendent of Vaccination.

" Government approve of the change proposed in rules 3. The rule as revised will read as follows:- Such Superintendent will usually be the Health Officer of the locality or in the absence of such an Officer a duly qualified Sanitary Inspector and when no such Sanitary Inspector is available, the Local Medical Officer."

(5) The Superintendent should be responsible to the Council to ascertain which of the residents above the age of 6 months within the area are unprotected against small-pox, to arrange for their vaccination, to serve notices on defaulters & to lodge complaints before the Magistrate. Much time is lost in the preparation of the lists of unprotected children for the whole area. As the unprotected children are detected day by day, arrangement should be made for their vaccination instead of wait waiting for the complete list to be ready to forward

(6) The adoption of a regular procedure as indicated above is essential in the interests of efficient Municipal administration, so far as Vaccination is concerned
